

EPRO Elevator Coaching

Learn how to lift your professional English in 5 simple steps and boost your performance at work

Is your English good enough, but now you need to lift your game?

Do you want to communicate clearly and confidently with clients and colleagues?

I can help you get your message across smoothly in English.

Hi, I'm Christina

I've coached, trained and taught in companies, language schools and university in Europe and New Zealand.

I've worked with people in healthcare, engineering, finance and IT from all around the world, including Argentina, Brazil, China, Denmark, Egypt, France, Germany, India, Japan, Malaysia, the Philippines, Poland, Spain, Sudan, Ukraine, Vietnam and Zimbabwe.

Helping professionals master English communication skills has been my bliss for over 20 years.

How we work together to improve your English

My 5-step course encourages, equips and enables you to perform to your potential in professional English.

1. We set a clear path to success by assessing your speaking and writing: we pinpoint problems, identify priorities and design an action plan.
2. To start your snowball, you establish the habit of short but regular spurts of English training to support speaking and writing.
3. Steal from excellent models rather than doing boring, generic grammar. Explanations, examples and exercises tailored to your situation enhance this habit.
4. We strengthen your speaking and writing skills by preparing, rehearsing and revising your conversations, talks, emails and reports to help you perform your work as well as possible.
5. You slip into relaxation mode with the habit of relaxed reading, listening and viewing to boost subconscious learning.

And at all levels, I give you focused feedback with corrections, explanations, suggestions and advice.

When you do the recommended tasks, your professional English will become more competent, comfortable and confident.

Your investment in 12 weeks of personalised coaching is $1,497.

Can't fit more into your tight schedule?

Don't worry. The coaching programme is flexible.

We work around your schedule to set the times for our 10 online sessions of 50 minutes or we can meet face-to-face in the Wellington CBD.

I also send you brief emails with short tasks that you can do in 20 minutes via email or audio message.

And I check in with you regularly to maintain motivation and hold you accountable.

EPRO Elevator Coaching is tailored to your needs, so you won't waste time.
